If your integrator is linked in anyway to a specific manufacturer of products or services, his hands will be tied. Which means you won't get the freedom you deserve.

Logistex is the leading 4th party integrator for warehouse automation system design, installation and ongoing support that's not constrained by own product manufacturing. As a true 4th party integrator, we are bound only by our imagination and our global knowledge, which means we've total freedom to specify and integrate anyone's products without compromise.

If you're looking for minimum investment for maximum return, with Logistex it's a sure thing.
